Reports from the Truckee River in Nevada, where the fishing season opened this week, would indicate that during the coming season, this district will provide better than average entertainment for the hundreds of fishermen who have learned of the many pleasant advantages of fishing in this region. The trout are in excellent condition and are apparently more plentiful than in recent years. This latter fact is attributable to several important factors, the principal one being the protection given the local streams during the closed season. It is no longer a mark of distinction to be able to boats of catching fish out of season or buying them from violators. This protection comes from the fine work being accomplished by Warden Bill LaMarr and also to the efforts of local sportsmen who have seen the results of closing their eyes to law violations. Through the cooperation of various contributing agencies the streams have been heavily stocked and care is being taken in planting and protecting the fry. The state fish and game commission can no longer point to the Truckee-Tahoe district as a bad example of lawlessness in wild life destruction and have given invaluable assistance in bringing the district back to its old normal. We heartily endorse a continuation of this valuable program.

It is pleasing to note that a great many Truckee residents are giving attention to their yards and gardens. There is probably no more lasting impression than to enter a town or city which has well-kept, attractive yards, giving evidence that the occupants are alert and progressive citizens. With our climate the task is made doubly hard but by the same token the effects are doubly pleasing. And, incidentally, a fresh coat of paint goes a long way in beautifying homes.

The person or persons who recently entered the Odd Fellows cemetery and after slashing four large lilac plants near the ground, then stuck the limbs back into the earth to delay detection, should be proud indeed. There can be no possible excuse for such acts of vandalism and such practices cannot lead the perpetrators to any good.

The H and W Club of Meeks Bay is sponsoring a fine entertainment and dance Saturday night and it will be well worth attending. Johnny Blaisdell and his novelty orchestra are not strangers to radio audiences and it will be somewhat of a treat to have them in Truckee.

Chris Nielsens Entertain Newlyweds in Reno Home

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen entertained at a dinner party Friday night at their Fourth street home in Reno, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Miller Mikkelsen who were married in that city April 6.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mikkelsen of Fresno, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gardiner of Reno, Joe Kirkely and Elizabeth Kirkley of Reno, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bonnenfaut, Camille Bonnenfaut and Jeannette Williamson of Deleker.

Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen have returned to their Lake Tahoe home for the summer.

Truckee Anglers Go To Nevada on Opening Day

A few Truckee sportsmen took advantage of the opening of the trout fishing season in Nevada on Tuesday and while only mediocre luck was reported by the majority, Dave Cabona, Truckee's ace angler, returned early Tuesday morning with his 10-pound limit of rainbow. The fish are in excellent condition as a result of the more or less mild winter and prospects for the future on the river are indeed bright.

Stan Gregory, another local expert, faired only fairly the opening day but Wednesday morning returned with a near limit of rainbow ranging up to two pounds.

The nice catch by Cabona decorated the window of the Truckee Sport Shop Tuesday and attracted considerable attention.

FREAK STORM

This region experienced a freak bit of weather Tuesday evening when a severe lightning storm, accompanied by a blizzard and an unusually heavy fall of snow.

Utility District Election Slated To Be May 6th

Incumbent Only One Thus Far to File For Position

C. E. Smith was the only candidate to file nomination papers for the position he now occupies as director of the Truckee Public Utility District. Time for filing, so that the names will appear on the official ballot for the election May 6, ended yesterday.

The election will be held at the district's office on Commercial Row starting at 6 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. On the election board will be Mrs. Marie A. Cabona and Mrs. Elsa Powell, judges; Mrs. Naomi Blaney and Mrs. Rose Kielhofer, clerks, and W. H. Laity, inspector.

Smith has held office as director for the district for many years and has accomplished a creditable job through his careful decisions in all matters pertaining to the task. He is now serving as president of the board. A history of the activities of the district stand as his highest recommendation.

Other members on the board who are not up for election are W. F. Wilkie, Jr., and Ben Tonini.

March and April Reverse Normal in Precipitation

With April only half gone, the pecipitation this month in Truckee is nearly double the total for all of March, District Ranger H. I. Snider reports. Up until today the total for April was 2.32, while in March only 1.85 inches were recorded. The March normal is 4.15 inches and the April normal is 1.28 inches. The total precipitation is 27.14 inches.

Many Take Adavantage of Nevada Opening at Lake

TAHOE CITY— Fishing season on the Nevada side of the lake opened Tuesday morning and the trek of fishermen from California and Nevada points was heavy.

Weather conditions were fair, barometers were low and a strong wind was blowing. Through the steady fish planting and restocking program carried on by the state fish and game commission, fishing conditions are growing better every year. As an experiment, large number of rainbow and black spotted trout (native trout bred in Blue Lakes) were planted in Emerald Bay and near Al Tahoe, although no planting had been done directly in the lake for many years.

Jack Mathews, manager of The Senator in Sacramento, and a party of friends were at Al Tahoe for the fishing.

Charles Swanson got two fine mackinaw and Bob Wallace one on the opening day on the Nevada side.

In Tuolumne and Mariposa counties the open season on trout, excepting golden trout and whitefish, is now May 1 to October 31. The change in opening date from May 30 was effected when Governor Culbert L. Olson signed Senate Bill 207, Chapter 66, Statutes of 1941, on April 4th, as this bill carried an urgency clause.

The passage of this bill will permit 30 days more trout fishing in the two counties, according to the state division of fish and game.

Incorporation Facts To Be Presented to Voters Prior To Election This Summer

For the purpose of information The Sierra Sun and Truckee Republican will, from time to time, publish facts pertaining to the proposed election for the incorporation of this immediate area. All preliminary steps required by law have been taken relative to securing the required number of signatures of taxpayers on a petition, setting up the proposed boundaries and other incidental formalities.

The next step in the procedure will be a hearing before the board of supervisors when any reason why an election should not be held will be heard. Following the hearing, scheduled for May 1, the board of supervisors will fix the date for the election. Notice of election, giving the proposed boundaries and other pertinent facts, will be advertised at least two weeks prior to the election.

Names of persons to be voted for to fill various municipal elective offices prescribed by law will appear on the ballot together with the question for or against incorporation. A majority vote will determine the issue.

The Municipal Corporation Act in Section 850 provides that the government shall be vested in a city council composed of five members, a city clerk, a city treasurer, a chief of police and a city judge as well as such subordinate officers or employes as are hereinafter provided for.

The members of the city council, the city clerk and the city treasurer shall be elected by the qualified electors of the city. The respective terms of the city councilmen shall be determined as follows: the two members elected by the highest number of votes shall hold office for four years, and the three elected with the lower number of votes shall retain office for two years.

The city council shall appoint the chief of police and the city judge and may, in its discretion, appoint a city attorney, superintendent of streets and such other officers as may be deemed necessary. Salaries of these officers shall be fixed only through ordinance or resolution and the employes hold office during the pleasure of the city council.

Section 855 of the Municipal Corporation Act provides that "the members of the city council shall receive no compensation whatever....unless a salary shall be provided through the majority vote of the electors at a general election." Few towns of the sixth class provide pay for councilmen and in cities many times the size of Truckee salaries do not exceed $5 per month.

Compilation of laws relating to cities of the sixth class is available at The Sierra Sun office for those desiring to acquaint themselves with details. We shall use this book with other authentic facts in dealing with questions which may arise. All questions may be directed either to C. B. White, chairman of the incorporation committee, or to The Sierra Sun and if pertaining to the issue, will be answered either privately or through these columns.

Game Law Violator is Fined in Justice Court

After issuing a severe warning and reprimand, Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith yesterday fined Ferd Morey, Truckee, $50 after the latter pleaded guilty to a charge of having venison in his possession. Morey was arrested by Game Warden William LaMarr who is conducting a vigorous fight against violators of the fish and game laws.

LOCAL PASTOR WEDS DAUGHTER TO ROBT. MORRIS OF QUINCY

Just before the close of the regular Easter morning service at the Community Methodist Church announcement was made that the marriage of Miss Lois Irene Keetch to Robert F. Morris would ecur in a few minutes, and all who were present were invited to remain as guests.

Following the singing of "All For You" by Tejas Edwards of Tahoe City, Mrs. Edwards played the wedding march. Preceded by her sister, Miss Mary Keetch, as bride's maid, the bride entered the church escorted by her brother, George Keetch, and marched up the aisle to meet the groom who was accompanied by Paul Alcouffe of Calistoga as best man. The bride's father, Rev. G. J. E. Keetch, officiated at the service and pronounced the couple man and wife.

Mrs. Morris wore a gown of white satin and net., and a veil of net caught up with orange blossoms. The bride's maid wore a gown of blue taffeta trimmed in pink. The church was decorated with beautiful plants and cut flowers.

The bride, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Keetch, was born in Eureka, Mont., while her father was pastor there. With her family she came to Truckee, a little over two years ago. She was graduated from Meadow Lake Union High School in 1939. Last year she attended Coalinga junior college. Since the first of this year she has been employed as an operator for the telephone company here. Mr. Morris came to Truckee a little less than two years ago as a bookkeeper with the Bank of America and is now employed as teller in the bank's Quincy branch. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Morris of Santa Cruz.

Following the ceremony a buffet lucheon was served to out of town guests by the bride's mother. These included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shields of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Luis Aramayo of Sacramento, Mrs Bernice Stockwell of San Jose, and Paul Alcouffe and Ray Salmon, both of Calistoga.

The happy couple left Sunday afternoon for a honeymoon trip at Santa Cruz and other points. After May 1 they will be at home to their friends in Quincy.

District Ranger H. I. Snider was back on the job at the Truckee ranger station after being isolated for two weeks in a snow-bound shelter in the wild French Meadows region south of Soda Springs. The local man sustained a broken ankle while on a snow survey trip with Ernest Baxter of Nevada City and Quentin Queen of Auburn. While he is doing no heavy work, Snider is attending to routine duties with his left ankle in a cast. The broken bone was set without splints and is healing nicely.

The rescue was effected by El Dorado Forest crews working from Georgetown and the Brushy Springs ranger station. Snider was brought to the latter point at 11 A. M. Monday and telephoned Truckee at once.

With him during most of the enforced "vacation" was James Wheeler of Big Bend who skied in to aid Snider and to keep him company. The two were supplpied with food by an airplane piloted by Edward Sandin of Nevada City.

A rescue squad starting out from Soda Springs was recalled when Snider was brought to the Brushy Springs station.

EDITORIALS

"I READ IT IN THE PAPER"

It may be the price of eggs, a new trend in dress styles, the latest medical discovery, or some startling development in the Battle of Britain, but whatever it is, when you inquire—"Where did you hear that?"—the reply nine times out of ten, will be: "I read iti n the paper!"

The newspaper is so much a part of our lives that it is often taken for granted, like the sun or the stars, or the air we breathe and the water we drink. If it's late, we call up and yelp about it, just like we complain about the weather. A paper, unlike other businesses, doesn't belong to any one man or woman in particular; it belongs to all its readers. The editor learns that every time he writes an editorial that rubs somebody the wrong way, or leaves out the club notes, or mis-spells a name. A paper is history hot off the press—the drama of the world and the story of Our Town. But it is also church calendar, theater guide and the housewife's shopping manual.

The newspaper is almost as much a part of America as the stars and stripes in the Flag. It recorded the birth of America; it reported, day by day, and week by week, the growth of America; it came across the plains, with a stick of type or two, when America marched West; it reported the death of Lincoln and it held the forms to tell the story when Mrs. Smith had twins. The newspaper publisher has more bosses than any other man in town, and once in a while when he gets mad he has to remind himself that a paper not only belongs to the community, it's part of the community. And then the publisher is proud.

A crazy business, this business of publishing a newspaper. And now we can hear someone remark—"It must be so; I read it in the paper!"

STILL THE CHAMPION

...One of the worst things about dictatorship is its monotony. Only observe the sad plight of fistiana's realm in the United States today. Where, in a word, are the vast throngs numbering hundreds of thousands of spectators, and where are those multi-million dollar gate receipts which once brought tears of joy to the eyes of promoters, no matter how calloused their souls? Gone, alas, like the snows of yesteryear, banished by the unbeatable gloves of Dictator Joe Louis.

With unfailing regularity, the lightning fists of Mr. Louis have defeated more than a dozen contenders for his crown. Their latest triumph occurred only the other day when they laid another victim to rest in St. Louis before 20,000 spectators who paid $55,000 to witness the event—a sum which contrasts sadly with the gate receipts of $2,650,000 in the last Dempsey-Tunney battle.

Dictator Joe cannot be accused, however, of destroying competition. He has fairly and willingly given all comers a chance to test their mettle and seize his title. But the contenders have contended in vain. Their spirit is willing, but their mettle is weak. Louis' crown still rests securely atop his unbowed head.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

Let me tell you, my face was tomato blue (if you know what I mean) about last Thursday noon. We were on our way out to the house for lunch when something somebody said brought me to the realization that I hadn't written my kolyum of drivial bull for the Sun. All week I went around feeling like I'd forgotten something. You know how you feel when you feel when you leave the house without brushing your teeth or without putting on your sox, or failing to show for an appointment with Doc Bernard or Doc Cozzalio or one of the hairdressers, Mary Roquette or Mrs. Laity. You go around saying to you, "Something's wrong, but I'll be darned if I know what." And then, at the 13th hour you find out what. Well, here I am again, hoping no one missed me and that everybody understands.

This week I've got some candidates for degrees as doctors emeritus of the college of hot stove historians. For his recollection of old San Franciso, the Philipines, the editorship of the Truckee Republcan—ah, worthy rag—and for years of community service, I nominate Cecil "Ed" Edmunds. Although still within the draft age, Albert "Al" Pfaendler is an outstanding toreh bearer of little bits of local history; he is the grandson of the finest brewmeister that ever tapped a bung, old Albert Pfaendler of the justly famous Boca Brewery of the 1880s and 1890s; too, Young Al has some interesting stories of the unique system of Yolo county—my old stumping grounds—and its law enforcement P. R. (Pre-Repeal). Welcome, gentlemen, to the Cast Iron College and its course in hot stove history.

I heard of some ill-informed male making the very juvenile crack that women had no sense in hat selection. As silly and impractical as some chapeaux may appear at first glance, they serve to catch the eye and that, after all, is one of the main reasons we wear anything save skins or coarse woolens—men or women. I for one laud the indepence and originality that women display when choosing headgear. Just what, I ask in all seriousness, is particularly sensible about a man's hat? We buy hats with dinky little feathers in them and then procede to ridicule women because they don't have the bigoted inhibitions we men have about color, Take a look at the town's better dressed men like Angelo Besio and Verne Shattuck, they use colors well and to good effect. It's too bad more of us—yours drooly included—can't swallow of our phoney shyness and cut loose on color.

Notes on the back of a grocery list: Jule Litchenberger is still wearing his infantile paralysis pin on his hat band....Ray Saibini of Boca setting the Chevvy waiting for mamma to do her shopping....three shoe shine stands on the main drag...., bigger and better freights....the milk magnets, Sammy Costa and Bimbo Esola backing into the depot with their truck early in the morning before school....must remember to return Winnie the Pooh to Renee Hart next week....very pleasant chit chat over a coke with Marilyn "Hank" Hinkle, up from classes at Cal, in at Elvery Leroy Loynd's fountain.... stopped and talked with one of Truckee's favorite daughters, Mary Beth Pierce, up from classes. College seems to agree with Mary. Note on MBP: don't let her size fool you, she's animated TNT once aroused and a mass of energy when her mind is set.

Have you discovered how smoothly you speed up again with Finer Flying A?

SMOOTH AT EVERY SPEED

Try a tankful today and feel the difference at any speed

Slow. Fast. Slow again. That's the way it goes in a day's driving. And at some of these traffic speeds your motor probably fails to run smoothly with ordinary gasoline. Maybe it's in the 25 mile zone. Or perhaps it's at the highway cruising speeds. Or maybe your motor balks only when you step on the gas for quick pick-up. But you don't have to have trouble at any speed. Not any more. We've designed a new gasoline especially to solve that problem.

It's 7 gasolines blended into one. Associated blended seven great fuels for Finer Flying A. Each one does a particular job particularly well. One keeps motors smooth on the hard pull . . . another reduces knocks at traffic speeds . . . another assures smoothness at higher speeds. All are blended to keep your motor smooth at every speed. Polymerized gasoline is in there. Cracked gasoline is in there. And Alkylated, Solvent-refined, Reformed, Straight-run and Natural gasolines complete the magic seven.

Put in a tankful of Finer Flying A. Discover how you take the changing traffic speeds with a new smoothness. Go fast. Go slow. Go fast again — smooth at every speed.

Just clean isn't enough. In Associated comfort stations, tissue seat covers give you extra sanitary protection. And because we inspect comfort stations every hour, you'll always find cleanliness plus a supply of sanitary seat covers. Look for the green and white sign—Certified Clean Comfort Station—For Baby, Too. It's another Associated service.

Covering the Legislature

by ALLEN G. THURMAN
(Assemblyman for the Sixth District)

A great deal has been written about lobbyists and two or three of the daily newspaper would have the people believe that the lobbyists run the legislature. Even these same newspapers have representatives who lobby against legislation that would be harmful to the newspaper business and lobby in favor of legislation which would be of benefit to the newspaper business.

The same can be said for other industries, business, labor and agriculture.

There are between 250 and 300 so-called lobbyists representing every kind of business, industry, labor, agriculure and other interests before the legislature. All of them are registered as is required by law.

Included in this group are representatives who are spokesmen for business and industry, big merchants and little merchants, union labor, the farm bureau, the Grange, the druggist, the barber, the hair dresser, the medical profession, the unndertakers, the CIO, the A F of L, Labors' Non-Partisan League, women's clubs, district attorneys, dentists, churches, the W.C.T.U., the gold mining industry, the sportsmen, the Railroad Brotherhoods, the steam railroads and the electric railroads, the registered nurses, the hospitals, the moving picture industry, the theaters, the oil industry, the telephone companies, the dairy business, insurance companies, veterans organizations and many other groups.

Even the State of California maintains a lobbyist in the nation's capitol whle the Governor of the State has a contact man who is in every sense of the word a lobbyist.

The various state departments have contact men who are registered as lobbyists and who lobby for department bills before the legislature. Such departments include the Department of Public Works, the Department of Natural Resources, the Motor Vehicle Department, the state highway patrol and several other departments.

Because of much misinformation, the name "lobbyist" to many people is an individual who plays crooked politics. This, of course, is not the the case. While there are, no doubt, crooked lobbyists just as there are crooks in ther walks of life, on the whole the lobbyists are men and women who are sincere and who are working to protect the interests they represent from harmful or unjust legislation.

Labor is well represented before the legislature to protect labor from unfair laws. The same goes for business and agriculture. The representative of the gold mining industy must protect that industry from laws that would be harmful.

These representatives, known as lobbyists, appear before the various committees either sponsoring or opposing legislation. If they did not, then labor, business and agriculture would suffer because your legislators must hear both sides of the argument. Lobbyists are necessary and there are laws on the statute books to take care of the so-called "crooked" lobbyists.

Legislators from the metropolitan areas know little or nothing about agriculture but they can learn something about the farmer's problem if a representative of agriculture appears before them she tells the story of the farmer's problem.

The crooks who may be lobbyists can be eliminated but because now and then one crooked lobbyist may be found is no reason to judge the legitimate representative by the actions of a crook.

Lobbyists are necessary and they do not run your legislators whether they be represetatives of business and industry or the state government.

GOLDEN GLOVES BOXING TOURNAMENT SET FOR RENO ON APRIL 22, 23 AND 24 AT EL PATIO

Outsanding amateur boxers from all over Nevada and Northern California will compete in a three-day Nevada Golden Gloves touenament, scheduled for April 22, 23 and 24 in Reno. The tournament will be held in El Patio Ballroom which seats 3000.

The tournament committee, sanctioned by Al Sandell, Pacific AAU commissioner of San Francisco, consists of Albert Hawley, Stewart Indian School athletic director, tournament director; Jim Aiken, University of Nevada coach, public relations, and Tony Pacetti, Reno, business manager.

Competition will be held in both novice (beginner) and senior (veteran) divisions in all eight weight classes: flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight, light-heavy and heavyweight. Trophies will fo to all champions in both novice and senior divisions as well as to the most popular fighter and for the quickest knockout.

In the senior division, most of the crack amateurs of northern California have tentatively entered the tournament. Clubs already signifying their intention of sending their top-notch scrappers include the L. A. Young's of Oakland, California Gym of Stockton, Victory Athletic Club of Sacramento, Boys' Town Club of Stockton and others. The latter contingent won most of the honors at the recent AAU tourney in San Francisco and its coach, Al Avila, is now taking the Pacific champions back to the AAU national meet in Boston.

Nevada entries include the powerful Stewart Indians as well as teams from most of the surrounding towns of Fallon, Carson, Virginia City, Pyramid Lake, Schurz, Sparks and other places. The Sierra Californian region will probably be represented by, Lassen Junior College, Susanville, Westwood, Portola and others. The University of Nevada, which had the outstanding collegiate mitt in early '30s, before giving up the sport, returns to the fistic wars with a full team of entries.

TOURISTS CONTRIBUTE $6 OUT OF EVERY $100

SAN FRANCISCO —(RNS)— San Francisco and the rest of Northern and Central California benefit from the tourist business at the rate of $6 out of every $100 of basic income.

Californians, Inc., in kicking off its campaign to keep the tourists coming, pointed out that tourists spent more han 61 million dollars in San Francisco and its neighboring region in 1940, which represented $6 out of each $100 of basic income in circulation. Also stressed were the facts that tourists help pay taxes, to sustain rentals and maintain property values, and are a source of new population.

Californians, Inc., with headquarters in San Francisco, advertises the entire Central and Northern California region to the out of state public.
